Education is not preparation for life education is life itself”
It gives me great pleasure to welcome you all to N.S.C. Public School. Our motto is to prepare leaders of tomorrow with eternal hunger for knowledge and information and share the received wisdom with humanity to selflessly serve mankind. Every piece of marble has some uncut parts that are required to be chiselled out by the maker, before being sculpted into a beautiful statue. Our vision is to incorporate new innovations and methodologies to make learning a joyous process. Our founder late Mr. Mahesh Singh Chandel was an anthropologist and a passionate educationist. His elder brother late Mr. Mahendra Singh Chandel was himself a dedicated teacher and had high aspirations of creating a “Temple of Education” to even the most underprivileged. So carrying his ideas and dreams forward in honor of our honorable founder established the institution and we started our journey.

Today we stand firm with his values. Our source of motivation comes from the children, dreams and aspiration in their eyes longing to get educated. Today the world is at the threshold of a new era- an era powered by knowledge. Even as we prepare to ride the waves of change, our foundations are built on solid rock, firmly anchored on strong life principles. The N.S.C. Public School prides itself in not just being an institution imparting life's latest know-how, but also instilling human care values.

Our research is incessant, our service is tireless and our perseverance untiring. May the god bless you and the almighty guide you in all endeavors.
